ABOUT

A solo studio, built in Kerala.

BBC Studio is run by one person — Boney Thomas. No account managers, no hand-offs between departments, no briefing three different agencies for one project. You work directly with the person who designs, builds and ships your system, from the first conversation to the day it goes live.

Boney Thomas

Founder — AI automation & intelligent systems

Direct access to the builder means faster answers, fewer misunderstandings, and a system shaped around how your business actually runs — not a generic template.

Every project starts with a free audit — final quote depends on scope. International pricing on request.

THE PROCESS

Simple steps. Real results.

01

Free Audit

We look at your business and map exactly where automation or a custom app saves you the most time and money. No cost, no commitment — just clarity.

02

We Build It

Your app, automation system, or website — built in days, not months. You see progress at every step and approve before anything goes live.

03

You Run It

Your business runs smoother from day one. We stay available as your technical partner, so you're never on your own as things grow.

READY WHEN YOU ARE
